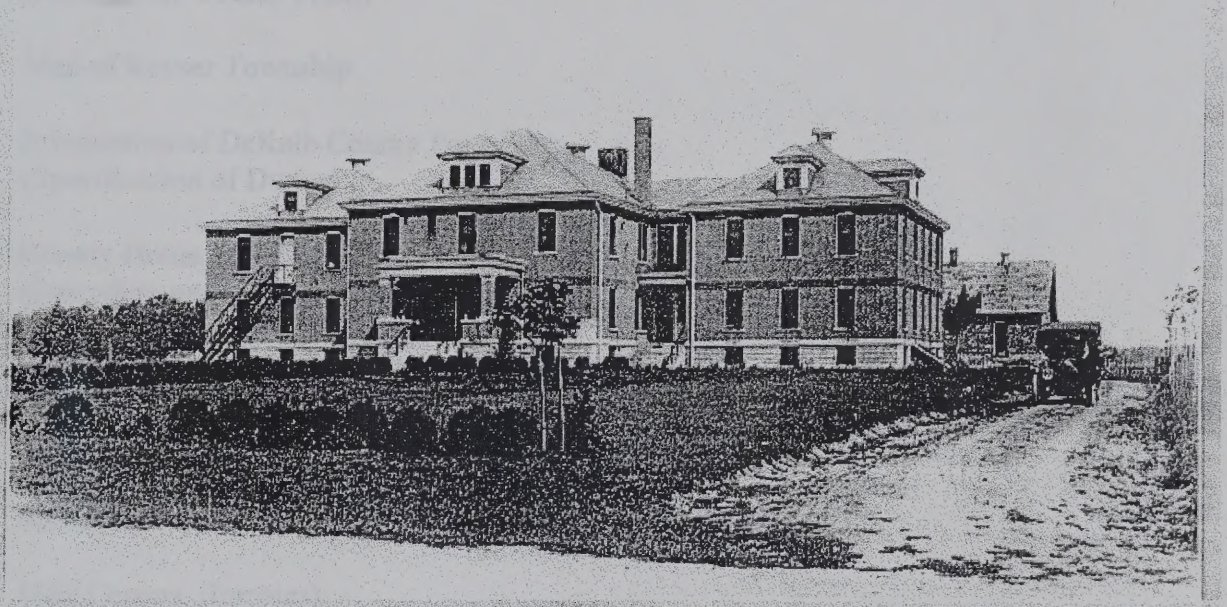
DeKalb County Home

DeKalb
County
Infirmary



THE above picture shows where DeKalb county cares for those who through physical or financial misfortune are unable to care for themselves. This building cost $27,000 and is located on a farm of 320 acres, one mile North-West of Auburn. The sale of the surplus products of the farm has reduced the expense of maintenance to less than $4,000 for the year, which is less than one mill on each one hundred dollars of the taxable property of the county.

The DeKalb County Asylum

The DeKalb County Asylum is one of the best in the state, in equipment, space, methods, and as a comfortable home for the unfortunate people who are compelled to seek refuge there. The establishment of a home such as this one is charity and humanity of the highest. A man has a right to be protected by his fellows, and he has the right to demand it, but pride and dread of dependence together prevent him from doing so in almost every instance. In the case of the county asylum, the individual does not have to seek help, the county seeks him who needs it, and gives it with open hand. Such is the beneficence of this institution.

The present asylum is a magnificent structure of brick and stone, containing in the main building sixty-four rooms, for inmates. The former asylum was a two-story frame building, and, although adequate to the immediate needs, was supplanted by the present building. The farm belonging to the institution contains three hundred and twenty acres, and active farming is conducted thereon by the inmates who are able and qualified to work. Steam heat from a private plant is supplied to all of the buildings, and the place is wired for electricity, although at this date the current has not been sent out from Auburn. There are commodious barns, out houses, store houses, bakery, and a diversity of labor may be give to the inmates. Three girls and two men are employed on the farm besides the proprietor, Alva Grogg and his wife. Good, Substantial food is obtained, and comfortable living quarters are furnished. The building was constructed in 1908. At this date there are forty-one inmates, eleven of whom are women. The county supports the institution, although the farm itself brings in some revenue. The Care of the Poor in DeKalb County

Story of the History of the County Infirmary
(Re: Auburn Courier March 12, 1908)

The old county infirmary building has had its day. It will soon give place to a new one, a larger and more handsome structure, and honor to the county and a blessing to the unfortunates whose care every time has imposed upon us. Hence the following from Mr. W. H. McIntosh, one of the old and prominent residents of DeKalb county, giving the Courier something concerning the history of the county farm on which stands the old building and on which the new building will be located will interest many: Editor Courier—The care of the paupers has always been the duty of the public. In the early days they were sheltered in the home of others and this expense was borne by the township trustees who issued certificates for this purpose. At the March term of the county commissioners in 1854/64?, such allowances were approved by the commissioners and paid by orders drawn by the auditor on the county treasurer. Public opinion, with the growth in population, were long demanded a change in the method of caring for the poor and prompted the county commissioners to seek for a farm which could be purchased on which a home for the care of these unfortunates could be built. This sentiment soon assumed practical shape and in 1859. The board of commissioners, consisting of Solomon DeLong, Joel E. Thompson, and James M. Goetchius, examined a number of proffered properties and finally, in April, purchased of Mr. Goetchius, a member of the board, a tract of 120 acres in Butler township, paying $3,000 for it. Isaac Brandt, of Auburn, was appointed as agent to secure a superintendent and to provide an outfit of furniture, implements, stock, team and provisions and report tot he commissioners at the next regular term. On April 26, Mr. Brandt contracted with J. N. Lyon to superintend the farm for eleven months from May 1st, for which he was to be paid $250 and supplies were to be furnished his family, the inmates and a team. Michael Long supplied the farm with meat, groceries, hardware, furniture, shoes and the goods were bought at Auburn. Dr. J. U. Chamberlain was the asylum physician. In 1858 Peter Barnhart was appointed the superintendent. In 1869 bids were received to take charge of the farm an the contract was awarded to Nathan H. Matthews on his offer to pay the county a rental of $2.50 per acre for the use of the land and to board the paupers for $2 a week each. In 1863 A. Knott, was appointed superintendent and Dr. George Kessler was the asylum physician. In 1865 the superintendent was Wm. McBride. In 1868, at a special session it was decided by the commissioners to purchase another farm for the county infirmary and an appropriation was made for that purpose. Upwards of twenty-five farms were offered to them, among them the Amstutz farm two miles west of Waterloo. The commissioners decided on and purchased the farm then known as the Hosler farm, owned by Moses Gonser, located about two miles west of Auburn, in the northwest quarter of section 25, then Richland, but now the northwest corner of Keyser township. It contained 166 acres and had on it a new frame house. The price was $9,130, one third paid April 1, 1869 and the rest one and two years, afterward. The first superintendent of the newly purchased farm was Conrad Miller, whose disposition and ability admirably qualified him for the position. His salary was $600 and he continued in the place for several years. Mrs. Miller was fitted in caring for the inmates and secured comfort for them Her successors, Mesdames Rummel, Glazier, and Bartles were happily chosen persons to succeed her in her humane task, It was ordered that no medical service be rendered except by the regular physician, Dr. J. H. Ford. A regard for the superintendent was shown by the earnest request that ministers of the gospel hold services at the farm. In 1871 there were twenty-one inmates in the asylum, not one of whom was from Auburn. A large barn was built, 40 by 85 feet by Munn, Culver & Houghton the cost $1800. A report by Supt. Miller gave the expenditures as $1915.04, the items being superintendent's salary $600, labor $302, provision $304.36, clothing $294.62, incidentals $271.95. This report stated in detail the kind and quality of farm products, valued at $377.65. Jonathan Rummel, a veteran soldier of the war of four years service, succeeded Conrad Miller an admirably discharged his duties. Enterprise was shown in obtaining choice grape vines and strawberry and other plants from the agricultural department at Washington. These were faithfully attended by inmates and double advantage realized. When Mr. Rummel left the farm it was though difficult to find parties to fill the places of Mr. Rummel and wife, but the services of Chas. P. Glazier and wife were secured and they did their duty well. Mr. Rummel located for some time in property in the south end of Auburn where he died, and Mr. Glazier on leaving the farm engaged in keeping a hotel in the old Ensley-Harter building on the corner of Cedar and Seventh streets. He moved elsewhere during the fall of 1907. Augustus Bartles followed Mr. Glazier as superintendent and it is to his credit and that of Mrs. Bartles that they managed so well, with little hired help, that the enlarged farm was greatly self-sustaining and the inmates were made comfortable an contented. They deserved an appreciation beyond what they received. The public did not know how well they had done. One by one the old inmates have dropped off. We recall Jakey Knapp, Dr. Love, Christian Long, Isaac Roch, and Prudence Ritter among others. There are those who have been inmates for many years whose services have much more than repaid their keeping but for whom there is no recompense or recognition. Year after year repairs and additions were made to the buildings. More crowded became the quarters, more perilous the exposure to fire till the present Superintendent Brown and wife have an arduous, unenviable task to care for upwards of forty person some of whom by rights should be in state asylums. May the time come with completion and occupation of the new asylum when the idiotic shall be sent where they belong and the asylum merit the name in its care for the unfortunate poor who may accept its charity without humiliation. The structure is to be credit to the county, may provision for care of the poor forced to seek its shelter be as creditable, that the last days of the aged may be some what brightened from the heavy depression of hopeless failure. SNOWS AT SUNNY MEADOWS — Sunny Meadows managers Rick and Janel Snow welcome visitors to the county-owned residential care facility on County Road 40, northwest of Auburn. (Star photo by Amy Rekeweg)

By AMY REKEWEG

AUBURN — Not so long ago, people taunted the imposing brick building with names such as "funny farm," "poor home" or "insane asylum."

A place you'd have to be out of your mind to live in.

"It's just not that way," urges Janel Snow, who along with her husband, Rick, has managed the DeKalb County-owned Sunny Meadows residential care facility since October. "County homes are changing. I think the way society viewed them back then is a whole lot different than the way society views them now."

The Snows credit the home's former managers, Donna and the late Robert Dudash, for quieting that stigma. During their 15 1/2-year tenure, the Dudashes carefully polished the image of Sunny Meadows after pulling it from a quagmire of public misconception.

"They put it on the map," Janel said. "They were the ones who wanted to bring this home out of the Dark Ages, so to speak, and in present day — what it truly is."

History probably promoted t home's "poor farm" image.

Long ago, indigent folks unab to care for themselves were farm

County Asylum for the Poor, loc ual personalities," Janel said.

The home is open to anyone who needs a place to live. The only requirements are that residents must be able to feed, bathe and dress themselves, Janel said.

"There's a group of people who fall between being able to maintain their own apartment and needing a nursing home. Sunny Meadows is for those people," she said.

Many residents are elderly and/or mentally handicapped. "They are people who have lived very productive, normal lives, but because of sickness or an accident, they are unable to live on their own," Janel explained.

Sunny Meadows currently boards about 22 people, but can accommodate 28. Its floor plan is similar to the design of most college co-ed dorms — with men and women roomed in separate wings. Sandwiched in between are a large kitchen and dining room, and a cozy four-bedroom apartment where the Snows and their two young daughters live. The family recently sold their Auburn home and have quickly settled into their new residence.

"The best thing I like about living here is the people. They're nice," said 8-year-old Roxie Snow. "The only thing I don't like is that our apartment is kind of small."

Even so, the cure for cabin fever can be found among acres and acres of outdoor playground.

"I love all the space you can run outside," Roxie said, sliding a foot into a blue snowsuit, preparing to do just that. "Plus all the animals."

The home boasts a virtual petting zoo. Inside, "Sunny" the yellow German Shepherd hunts the hallways for a scratch behind the ears. Cats, ducks, geese and cattle roam the property, and hogs and beef cattle are sometimes raised for future butchering.

A thriving dairy farm helps pay the bills at Sunny Meadows. Of the 110-head cattle herd, 62 are milked daily. Most of the milk is sold to Schenkel's All-Star Dairy, and some of it winds up in the home's refrigerator.

Resident farmer Dave Kimmel holds the title of being the county's longest employee. Thirty-five years ago at the age of 24, Kimmel began tending the dairy herd.

"He was milking 20 head of cattle when he first came. He's the one who has grown the herd, and he's the one who has brought milk production up to what it is and made the farm profitable," Janel said of the competent cow tender.

More than 300 acres of pasture and crop fields form the borders of Sunny Meadows. Corn is raised for cattle feed, while wheat, oats and hay are sold for profit, Rick said.

Thirteen staff members, including the Snows, steer the smooth operation of the home and farm. Three cooks whip up three square meals a day, and a housekeeping staff tackles the laundry and other chores. Farm hands often rise with the sun and call it quits long after it sets.

When an employee is absent, the Snows cover maintenance duties along with their regular administrative tasks. Their hands are often full, but they love working together, the couple agreed.

"It's so good for our girls, to have both of us around," Janel said.

Sunny Meadows is a merry place where residents enjoy exercise classes, movie and game nights, and parties throughout the year.

"We try to recognize each person's birthday. If it's your birthday, during dinner you get a blue glass and a blue plate and your favorite meal. It's kind of a tradition for us," Rick said.

"We play a lot of euchre and rummy," Janel chimed in. "Oh, and they love bingo."

"Every now and then I'll tease them and call out a wrong letter, like R-72. They get a kick out of that," Rick said.

Two vans cart residents to doctor appointments and other in-town errands. Fairs and restaurants are among favorite get-a-way spots.

"We're planning some outings to a Fury game or a Wizards game, the botanical conservatory — places like that," Janel said. "In the next couple of years I'd love to see an activity director come on board and help plan some fun things."

The Snows encourage the public to tour the imposing brick building on CR 40. Visit with the folks who call it home. Help someone there learn to read, write a letter, play a game. Help put a stigma to rest.

"This place and the people mean a lot to us," Janel said. "Even just over this short period of time, they really have a solid place in our heart."

Dedication at the county home

AUBURN — Residents of DeKalb County are cordially invited to an open house at the DeKalb County Home on County Road 40 northwest of Auburn on Sunday, Oct. 19 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The invitation was issued today by DeKalb County Commissioners Herman Collins, Robert Forrest and Frank Laub and County Home Administrators Mr. and Mrs. Cecil (Norma) Parker.

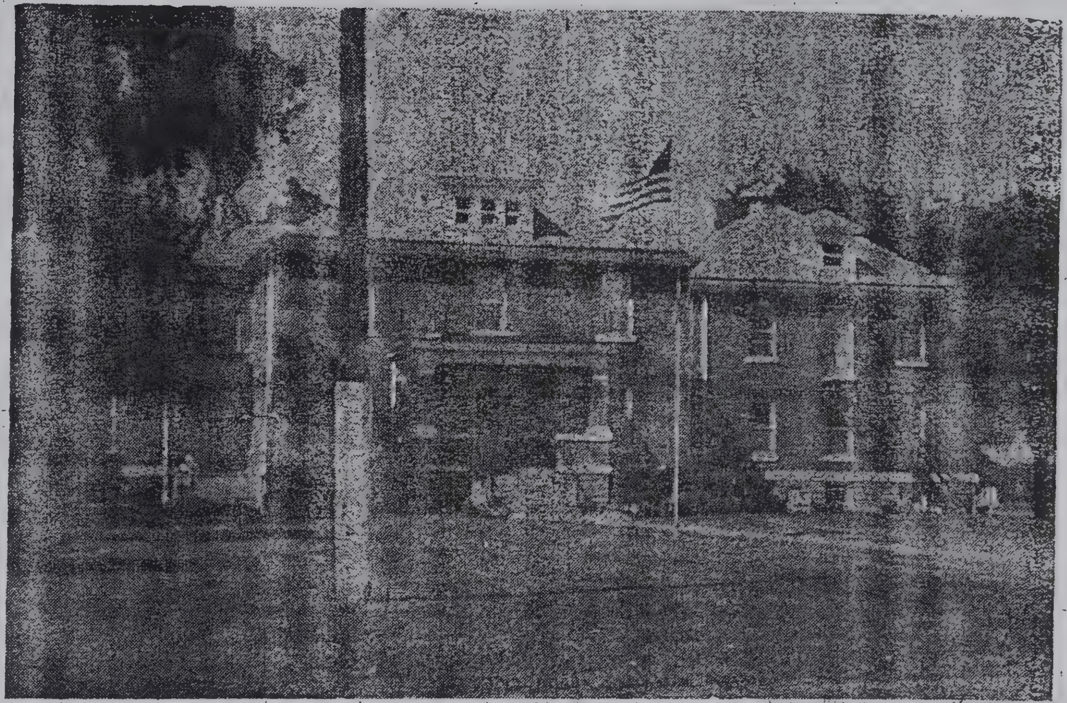
The open house is being held as a dedication service for the new chapel. The chapel is built in a room which once housed cells for patients "too ill, too old or too unmanageable" to rate a regular room at the home.

In the cell-block, men and women were kept behind bars. Sanitation facilities consisted of a trough down the middle of the room that was hosed down every day.

Now the room is a chapel, a place for residents to come to worship.

Mr. Parker said today that many people have helped with furnishing the room. He said, "The commissioners have been wonderful. They work with us constantly to improve conditions for the patients here at the home."

The first thing that strikes the visitor to the new chapel is a distinctive antique pulpit in the center front of the room. Two antique chairs for those conducting services and the pulpit were donated to the County Home by the Jerusalem Church north of Butler, and were delivered by Mr. and Mrs. Winn Bowers, Butler.



A portrait was donated by the Franklin Twp. Home Economics Club.

An evergreen cactus, measuring three feet across, was donated by Mrs. Dorothy Howard, daughter of a patient, Mrs. Zora Bonecutter.

There are 44 padded and comfortable folding chairs for patients worshipping in the chapel. Mr. Parker said that another dozen plain folding chairs are available if needed.

Those visiting the chapel will walk on green tweed carpet shot with orange. The windows are covered with tailor-made green and orange patterned drapes.

Security room

The only trace in the lovely room of the old use is a single padlock on a door to a small room at the rear of the chapel. This is the County Home's single "security" room. Mr. Parker plans are underway to install plumbing facilities in the little room—and without a thought of "security" said, "It will make a fine powder room for visitors."

Mr. and Mrs. Parker will have a display of the County Home's old records (back to the 1870's) for those visiting Su day. Also on display will several antique items.

Those visiting the open hou will have an opportunity to st and talk with the people w live at the County Home. All the residents are planning f the visit. Mr. Parker said th each resident will meet and ta with visitors in their own room

One woman has a doll colle tion that she loves to sho Many are hungry for attenti and friendship — All are eag to meet the people who w come and show an interest.

The men at the home ha helped with the chapel. The have painted the outside of t building white to cover r e brick that had to be repaire Mr. Parker said, "They a very proud of the chapel a the work that they have done.

The commissioners and th Parkers will take visitors on tour of the County Home at th open house.

Mrs. Parker is busy plannin refreshments for those wh visit. She will have plenty help from volunteers and som of the women who can hardl wait for the visitors.

COUNTY HOME FORMS
PROCEDUARE UNDER CHARTER, 244, ACTS OF 1947

Chapter 244, Acts of 1947, through declaration of an emergency in the Act, became effective March 12, 1947, although no provision was made for the fixing of rate for care and maintenance of persons in county homes until the first Monday of July, 1947. For this reason, it is our opinion that charges by the county to townships in the county for the care and maintenance of indigents in the county home should begin as of the first Monday of July, 1947. Charges by one county to another county for the care and maintenance of the indigents of such other county should continue at the rate set forth in the contract between the two counties until the termination of the contract, if the termination date is specified, at which time a new contract should be executed. If the termination date is not specified, a new contract should be entered into fixing the rate from the first Monday of July, 1947 to the first Monday of July, 1948,.

The forms prescribed are intended to be of use for purposes as follows:

FORM 77A

This form is for use of the overseer of the poor (or superintendent of the county home when directed to make investigation) as an aid in determining the status of a person for whom application for admittance is made. The form also provides a place for the examining physician to note his findings as to the health of the person and provides a place for the board of commissioners to show their findings in the matter.

NOTE: The fee of the examining physician should be paid by the applicant, or his agent, or in case of indigency, from poor relief funds of the township of residence of the applicant. The findings and order of the board of commissioners, in each case, should be recorded in the minutes of the board.

FORM 77 C

The receipt is for the use of the superintendent of the county home and he should issue a receipt for each payment received by him, whether it be for sales of produce, care and maintenance, or for any other reason. The original copy should be given to the payor in each instance and the third copy should remain in the bound book as a public record and retained by the county home superintendent. The county home superintendent will pay all money received by him in to the county treasury on or before the last day of each calendar month and report the same on Form 77 and file therewith the second copy of all receipts issued since date of last report.

FORM 77

This report will be due in the auditor's office immediately following the end of each calendar month and must be prepared by the county home superintendent. Each receipt issued is to be entered on the report by date, number, source amount. The county home superintendent will also report on this form the residents (inmates) maintained during the period from the date of the last report to and including the last day of the last full week in the month. (The first report will begin July 7 and end July 25).

FORM 77-B

Based upon the reports of the superintendent of the county home, the county auditor will prepare and keep an individual ledger sheet for each inmate, charging thereon the cost of maintenance at the rate per week fixed by the board of commissioners. Each individual account will be credited for all money received in support of the person whether by payment from the inmate, old age assistance or payment from poor relief funds or from another county. The county auditor, in giving credit, will account for amounts paid by inmates or their agents directly to the county treasurer by application to pay and quietus and amounts paid to the county treasury by the superintendent of the county home from his collections for care and maintenance.

The law states that payment and settlement shall be made in July and December for the preceding year. This has been construed to mean that immediately after December 31, 1947, the county auditor in the county in which there is a county home should make claim against the townships of this county for the care and maintenance of the township's inmates for 1947, and in like manner he should make claim against other counties having inmates in the county home. The amount so claimed will be due upon receipt of the claim by the debtor township or county and will be payable in July and December of 1948. Immediately after December 31, 1948, the county auditor will make a similar billing to the townships of his county and debtor counties for the care of persons during the year 1948. The amounts claimed will be due upon receipt of the claim by the debtor township or county and will be payable in July and December of 1949. The counties not having county homes, upon receiving a claim from the county in which its poor are maintained, the auditor of the debtor county will in turn make claim against the townships of his county in amounts sufficient to reimburse the county for such expense to the county. Counties maintaining county homes will budget for the expense of operation of the home as in past years, and counties not maintaining county homes will budget for the payment to other counties for the care of its poor, except, in each case revenues should be anticipated by reason of reimbursement for all persons.

Good accounting practice would suggest that as a means of proof of the maintenance ledger, a control sheet be kept covering all accounts, the credits of which should agree with a county revenue subsidiary general ledger account of "County Home Revenue". A simple method could be used to prove the total charges by taking the aggregate person weeks times the rate per week.

Attention is called to the fact that Chapter 244, Acts of 1947 contemplates that the expense of burial of poor persons be met by townships from poor relief funds and not by the county. It is our recommendation that upon the death of an indigent inmate, the superintendent of the county home immediately notify the trustee of the township from which the inmate was admitted so that such trustee can provide for the burial and cause the necessary cost to be paid from the poor relief funds of the township. There is, therefore, no need for an item in the budget for the county home of "burial of inmates".

THREE NEW PATIENTS AT THE INFIRMARY

Mr. Stone, of Waterloo, Nearly Blind, Has Taken up His Abode at the County Institution

MRS. DAVIS AND CHILD THERE

She Came to DeKalb Recently from Michigan—Her Health Failed

A Mrs. Davis and her five-year-old child were admitted as inmates at the county infirmary yesterday and will in all probability remain there for an indefinite length of time. Mrs. Davis formerly lived in Michigan but came to Butler township where she has been working for a family. Her health became such that it was deemed necessary to take her to the institution. She is a widow lady.

Mr. Stone of Waterloo has also taken up his abode at the county infirmary, going there last evening. He came to Auburn this morning for a brief stay and will resume abode at the infirmary soon. Mr. Stone is nearly blind and he desires to make his home at the infirmary. His children are doing all they can for him and by no means has he been cast out by them.

William Sanderson, Who has been of Unsound Mind for 26 Years, Passes Away.

DEATH COMES AS A RELIEF

Deceased was One of Oldest Inmates of DeKalb County Infirmary—Body is Being Held Awaiting Word From Relatives.

William Sanderson, an inmate of the county farm for the past twenty-two years died Sunday. He has been in failing health for the past few weeks and death came as a relief.

The deceased has been of an unsound mind since 1890, having been at Longcliff for treatment before going to the county farm. There was no dicease, especially, that caused his death, as he gradually wore out from excitement caused by the condition of his mind.

Mr. Sanderson was born near Massillon, Ohio, April 12, 1847, and enlisted in Co. A, 191 Ohio infantry on March 1, 1865, at Alliance, Ohio. He was mustered out August 27, of the same year.

The remains were brought to the Clark undertaking parlors and are there awaiting word from relatives. He did have a brother at Lindon, Kansas, who may possibly be there yet. It is supposed he has a sister at Silver Lake, Indiana, and efforts are being made to locate these relatives.

A VERY SAD DEATH AT INFIRMARY

John Thomas, 73, One of the Oldest Pioneers of the County, Died at the Infirmary.

AN INMATE FOR THREE YEARS

And Is Known by Many People over the County—Lived in Waterloo.

Heart-rending pathos will be signaled to the many, many acquaintances of John Thomas in consequence of his sad death, occurring at the county infirmary this morning, and to those who knew of his last wish that he would not breathe his last in the poor house the grief is even more poignant.

The late Mr. Thomas, whose age is seventy-three, was born in Stark county, O., and in 1843 he walked to DeKalb county, carrying in his fond embrace his two-year-old sister, who was an invalid, the entire distance. Mr. Thomas learned to be a shoe repairer and was known as an industrious, well meaning citizen, alert to his every obligation. At a time when success in its truest sense was crowning his efforts, he became addicted to drink and thus hard-earned means slipped from his possession and he was rendered dependent in his declining years. Old age forced him to retire to inactivity and subsequently he sought refuge from hunger and exposure in the county infirmary, becoming an inmate three years ago. He resided at Waterloo for many years.

Though conscious of the boundless hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mr. Thomas has reluctantly remained there, and during the past two years has repeatedly expressed the desire that he be permitted to die elsewhere than at the infirmary.

He has suffered from heart trouble and this, together with the ravages of senility, ushered his spirit into the eternal world. The body has been conveyed to Waterloo and will be kept in the Hettinger undertaking rooms, from where the funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Three sisters, Mesdames John Dunn and Henry Winslow, of near Auburn, and Mrs. Matilda Houser, of Altona, survive to mourn their loss.

HE WAS FAITHFUL; IS TO BE WELL BURIED

George Field, an Inmate of the County Infirmary, Dies with Few Relatives but Many Friends.

The DeKalb county infirmary lost one of its most faithful inmates at 3:16 o'clock Thursday afternoon when George Field, aged 73 years, for fifteen years a resident at the infirmary, died from the effects of heart failure.

It is believed by Mrs. Alva Grogg, wife of Superintendent Grogg, of the infirmary, that few of the inmates have lived at the county farm longer than Field. Jonnie Ludwig, however, has been an inmate of the infirmary since it was founded, but from all indications George Field, who had lived there the past fifteen years was next to the oldest charge from a point of residence.

Field it was who daily drove the cows to pasture and took general charge of the cattle during the winter months as well. In fact there was scarcely a task to be performed about the premises that Field could not discharge with credit.

The unforunate man was nearly alone in the world, however, a sister, Mrs. Roanna Cook, of Spencerville, survives along with a brother whose place of residence is unknown.

Under such circumstances as these the usual course for the superintendent of the farm to pursue would be give up the body to some educational institute to be used for medical advancement, but such a course will not be followed in this case.

The Groggs agree that Field deserved a respectable burial and there seems to be enough friends to believe in the same thing to make such a thing as a respectable burial possible. Just what these funeral plans will be, however, remains to be seen. The body was brought to the Clark morgue Thursday night where it was prepared for burial.

COATS TO INFIRMARY

County Clerk Ordered Yesterday That Transfer be Made from the Jail.

TO AWAIT FURTHER ORDERS

Coats Has Been So Violent That He Was Shackled the Past Day.

County Clerk Austin yesterday issued an order to the effect that Cassius J. Coats be transferred from the county jail to the county infirmary, until arrangements can be made for his commitment to the state hospital for the insane at Logansport.

Mr. Coats will be transferred to the infirmary owing to the fact that there are better facilities for keeping insane persons there than in the jail and also for the reason that repairs will be made at the jail.

Mr. Coats has destroyed considerable property in the jail. When intervewed this morning by a Courier man, he wanted it understood that he was a prisoner in jail just because he wanted to be. So violent has the demented man been during the past two days that it was necessary to handcuff him and put him in shackles. He was greatly improved this morning, however, and was taken for a walk by the deputy sheriff.

DIES AT COUNTY FARM

JAMES BLACK, ONCE NOTORIOUS CHARACTER, NO MORE.

Passed Away Thursday Afternoon—Inmate of Allen and DeKalb County Farms For Twenty Years.

James Black, better known as "Jimmy" Black, pickpocket, gambler, boose fighter and a vicious character all his life, died at the county farm Thursday afternoon about 5 o'clock.

He had been an inmate of the farm for over 20 years, having been brought there from the Allen county farm. For many years prior to his being in the Allen county farm he was a member of a gang of pickpockets that operated between Chicago, and Lima, Ohio, with headquarters at Fort Wayne, the gang being composed mostly of Fort Wayne characters. He was born in Fort Wayne, never married and has been noted all his life as a notorious "bad man."

A hard drinker, he was also very quarrelsome, always looking for trouble, and generally finding it. During one of his sprees he became engaged in a quarrel and was struck on the head with an iron bar that paralyzed him on his right side. That happened some forty years ago, and he never recovered from the results of this blow.

He was past seventy years of age, and for several years immediately after coming to DeKalb county he would be permitted to come to town to see a sister, Mrs. John Knoder, and an old friend Henry Trentman, but of late years he was so bad and vicious that he was not allowed to go away and was confined in the county farm lockup. He made many attacks on the warders and also attempted the lives of several of the inmates, and had to be watched all the time. He was buried Friday and there were no funeral services.

Amelia Rempis

Amelia Rempis was born in Zoar, Tuscarawas county, Ohio, October 7, 1831, and died at her home in Waterloo, Ind., Aug. 30, 1910, aged 78 years, 10 months and 23 days.

She was fifth of a family of ten children born to Louis and Louisa Berg Rempis, natives of Wurtemberg, Germany, who came to this country in the spring of 1831, and located in Zoar, O., and later in Massillon.

Of this large family of children only one now remains, the brother Charles, who resides near Waterloo.

The family moved from Massillon to the old farm in Smithfield township, DeKalb county, Ind., in 1853. Upon the death of her father in 1859, she continued to live upon the home farm with her brother Henry, and in 1906 removed with the family to the present home in Waterloo.

In the winter of 1881 she united with the Christian church at Cedar Lake, under the pastorate of Z. W. Shepherd and continued in faithful observance of her church duties so long as her health and strength would permit.

About two years ago her health began to fail and although not confined to her bed until the last week it was with great effort that she was able to be about owing to physical weakness. No apparent disease fastened itself upon her but the weakness which comes with age brought her low.

She had lived in a quiet unobtrusive manner her allotted time and passed quietly and peacefully to her rewards.

The funeral was held at the home on Lincoln street on Thursday afternoon, Elder Z. W. Shepherd of Ashley, officiating. His address although brief was terse with encouraging promise from holy writ, in which he emphasized the assurance of immortality. Having been the pastor of the deceased his remarks were very appropriate and well received. Mrs. M. A. Miser sang very sweetly two solos with Miss Edna Denison as pianist. Mr. F. W. Willis as a friend and neighbor, read the obituary and made some remarks on the inner life and character of the deceased.

The esteem with which she was regarded was evidenced in the large number of old neighbors from the country north in attendance and also by the wealth of beautiful flowers that covered the casket and adorned the parlor of the home, filling the room with bright good cheer and making the atmosphere redolent with the perfume of the lilies. Thus ends a quiet unostentatious life, one in which the achievements were not re-

On Wednesday evening of last week, a little boy by the name of Fickel, whose parents live on Mr. Geo. H. Duncan's farm was bitten by a dog and severely frightened. The father, hearing the screams of the boy, drove the dog away and shot at it, but failed to kill it. The boy, a lad of 12 years, has been subject to fits, and that evening was thrown into convulsions which were much more severe than ever before, and they continued to grow worse, and the parents were compelled, on Tuesday of this week, to send him to the county poor farm, where he can be confined in the cells for safety. The parents are poor and could do no better. The dog answers the same description as the one killed here on Thursday, and apparently attacked the child without any provocation. It is not known whether the bite of the dog caused the increased violence of the disease to which he was subject, but it is certain that the fright had its effect in the case as the poor little fellow arouses at times, with the appearance of intense fright.

Grand Jury Report
To the Hon. Judge of the DeKalb Circuit Court of DeKalb County, Indiana, we the Grand jury for the March Term 1911 make the following report. We have visited and examined the County Farm and Infirmary and report that we find the buildings to be in a good complete and Sanitary Condition, with this one exception: We find that the Plastering in an unfinished state is cracked, dirty and in a very unsanitary condition and we recommend that said plastering be cleaned and finished at once.
We find the barn and outbuildings to be sound an in good condition and to be suitable of the purpose intended. We believe that the inmates are as well cared for as could be done under all the circumstances.
We recommend that the County Council appropriate a sum of money for the purpose of burying those who die at the Infirmary and for whose burial there are no means provided for we believe that DeKalb County should not send to the state Medical College the bodies of those who die under those circumstances but should provide proper burial.

Now we go back to the original article
The building is kept scrupulously clean and special attention is given to personal cleanliness of inmates, all of whom are required to bathe at least once a week. We found the clothing of inmates ample and serviceable, beds, mattresses and blankets are clean and sufficient furniture plain but good, building well heated by steam and ventilated by windows, food is abundant, plain and wholesome, health of inmates is fairly good, plenty of reading matter is supplied and religious services are held occasionally.

The condition of main building is good except that a few needed improvements should be made.

As stated in our former report we would respectfully recommend to your honorable board that four toilets be placed on second floor, two in the men's department and two in the women's department in the most advantageous positions and that all toilets be screened from public view.

That drinking fountains be placed in the hallways.

We also recommend that the attic be floored for safety and for storage. That a proper set of record books be furnished the Superintendent, wherein he may keep a correct record of the farm and inmates.

Believing that the female help should be better paid, we recommend that their wages be increased commensurate with their duties. We unanimously commend Mr. And Mrs. Brown for the excellent condition in which we found everything about the premises.

HEART ATTACK WHILE PLOWING IS FATAL

Body of D. Alfred Muhn, Age 76, Toppled from Tractor near DeKalb County Infirmary — Funeral in Auburn

Final rites will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday in the Gerig funeral home in Auburn for D. Alfred Muhn, 76, a resident and an employe of the DeKalb county home since 1928.

Mr. Muhn died suddenly about 2 p.m. Wednesday while plowing with a tractor at the county farm. He was the father of Noel A. Muhn of 208½ East Seventh street, Auburn and Robert R. Muhn of Royal Oak, Mich.

The Rev. Herman Hedges, pastor of the First Church of God, will officiate at Friday's services with burial in Woodlawn cemetery. The body will remain at the Gerig funeral home where friends may call.

The superintendent at the county farm, Alva Grogg, reports Mr. Muhn was found dead on the ground beside the tractor. He said the elderly man apparently suffered the fatal attack shortly before he reached the end of a farrow row. The tractor bowled over a cement fence post, crossed a ditch onto the highway, then spun around in the road and headed back to the field. Mr. Muhn toppled from the tractor as it struck the fence when it turned back towards the field. The tractor, which did not run over its driver, stalled when it struck the fence the second time.

Mr. Grogg found Mr. Muhn dead beside the tractor shortly after he toppled from the tractor seat.

A native of Allen county, he was born Sept. 17, 1874. He had lived in DeKalb county since 1890. In 1910, he married Edith Oberholtzer who died in 1926. His last residence, before he moved to the county farm in 1928, was at Butler Center. He was employed as a carpenter before he went to the county farm.

Surviving, in addition to the two sons, are four grandchildren and a brother, Ed Muhn of Lake Shore avenue, Auburn. Two daughters preceded him in death. He was a member of the Lutheran church.
